LOVE

[Selected]

Love is a strange thing. It is something that is inherited and all people in all ages have it, regardless of sex, color, race or previous conditions of servitude. Do not keep boxes of love and tenderness sealed away until after your friends are gone. Fill their lives with sweetness and happiness. Speak improving, cheery words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled by them. The kind words which you mean to say when they are dead, say them now; the flowers you mean to send for their grave and coffin, send now to brighten and sweeten their homes before they are gone.

If my friends have boxes of love laid away, full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection, which they intend to break over my cast-off body, I would rather they bring them out in my weary and troubled hours and open them, that I may be cheered and strengthened by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without a single flower than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy.

Let's learn to anoint our friends with love beforehand. After death kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way. Kindness is more dear than gold. To the friendless, poor and homeless "true, loving kindness," is an oasis in a desert of our lives, a gleam of light and joy in the hour of darkness, and nourishment to their hungry lives and souls.

To relieve distresses and supply the needs and wants of our friends is "filling their lives with sweetness and happiness," and is the true way to honor and glorify our God, who is Love.

THE BAD BOY.

His hair is red and tangled, and he has a turned-up nose, His voice is loud and strident and it never gets repose; His face is full of freckles, and his ears are shaped like fins A large front tooth is missing as you'll notice when he grins. He is like a comic picture from his toes up to his head— But his mother calls him 'darling' when she tucks him into bed.

It is he who marks the carpet with the print of muddy boots, And rejoices in a doorknob that is pulled out by the roots. Who whistles on his fingers till he almost splits your ear, And shocked the various callers with slang he chanced to hear. He fills the house with tumult, the neighborhood with dread— But his mother calls him 'darling' when she tucks him up in bed.

Putting the Best Foot Forward.

That was a wise man who, years ago, pointed out to us the importance of putting the best foot forward. We hear much about the faithfulness of the dog. When the master comes home at night his lagging steps are met by his dumb friend who never fails to put his best foot foremost, backed by a wagging tail that mighty artists are bending forward to designate fagot-like lines that suggest excited emotion. I wonder if the wife realizes the importance of this bit of philosophy about putting the best foot forward and if she appreciates the lesson taught by that dog as he trots down the walk to meet the weary worker at the sunset hour? We hear a great deal now days about unhappy homes and the increase of divorces. So awfully much depends upon that best foot movement. Like produces like, and woman's smile to the returning husband will bear fruit. I fear too many women leave it to the dog to welcome the master home. After the dog the first impression some men receive of home is a woman who forgets to smile, irritated with the troubles that bear down upon her. Her irritability spreads to him and here lies one of the most potent reasons why home is unhappy. There is nothing on earth so much endears a man to his home as to have the sunshine of a good woman in it. If she knows her business, she is a cluster of fixed stars of virtue radiating around the home circle reluming all that come into her delightful presence. She is the moon and he is the man in the moon and the sweetest thing that life can offer to the man in the moon is the unclouded welcome of a pure woman. She is the ever resplendent rainbow of the storms of life and home with her in it will always be a harbor where the sunset paints golden flowers of peace. Thousands of women find themselves left alone at evening while the husband exchanges stories down-town, back of some public place. These good women, no doubt, often wonder why home does not appeal to the man. Lay aside for the moment all the errors of which the man is guilty, for undoubtedly he is guilty of many things which help to make home less happy, and look within yourself and ask 'tf.

yourself the question, "am I putting my best foot forward?" Do not answer this by saying that the man does not appreciate the worries and the monotony of your life, what you gave up to marry him and all this, because all these things are history now, and the man, too, has his troubles and his wrestlings with life. You both have lost something to gain something more. Meet one another with a smile. Put the best foot forward. Do not be outdone by a dog. If the meat is scorched and the bread won't rise, leave these troubles in the kitchen when you go out the front door as your husband approaches. Don't think he won't notice it, don't think he won't appreciate it; don't think that he won't know you are a brave little woman, smiling when there should be tears. The wife is much dearer than the bride!

In conclusion, put the best foot forward. It will help you keep step with business.

From London Sentinel June 23

Edwards refused the petition for pardon of Caleb Powers, whom he had always claimed to be a persecuted political prisoner. But we remember when a certain that had come to London about the same time Edwards came from Kansas, was being tried for the murder of an innocent mountain girl, whose dying statement was that this man had seduced her under promise of marriage and performed an abortion upon her;—when this man sought freedom, Mr. Edwards gladly wrote "in confidence" to the Governor, asking that he be pardoned. This shows clearly how much this man Edwards thinks of the mountain people. tf.

[CONTRIBUTED]
Who Are the Democrats of the Eleventh District Supporting?

Editor Eagle.

Never did the Democrats of the Eleventh Congressional district support Mr. Bryan or Mr. Beckham with more enthusiasm and zeal than they are now supporting Mr. Edwards. They are proclaiming his (supposed) greatness. They are saying they will contribute to his campaign fund, Will the Republicans in this, the Gibraltar of Republicanism in the State and nation, support a man so controlled by the Democrats? Are the Republicans of this district to follow the lead of a man who in the past tried to defeat Bradley for the United States Senate with a man like J. C. W. Beckham? This same man, Edwards, now wants the Democrats to vote in a Republican primary. There is something radically wrong with the Republicanism of such a man. Mr. Edwards has never shown a true Kentucky spirit, but how could he? He is not one of us. He was solicitous for the welfare of a man who in Laurel county entered the home of a pure Mountain girl and after gaining her love and heart he promised his hand, but he murdered her instead. Mr. Edwards asked "in confidence" that he be pardoned for this crime. That is not the spirit of a Kentuckian. The wonder is that he was ever sent to Congress the first time. No Republican district will ever return him. Caleb Powers may have made some mistakes, he has had some unusually hard trials, but there is one thing sure, Caleb Powers has never shown the white feather. He has stood in the thickest of the fight for the principles of the Republican party. He is a Republican, and with him there is no compromise with dishonor. He has never been known to desert his party or shirk a duty. Truer and better men never lived than those who live in the Eleventh district. They are true to their party, though the Democrats curse them. They ought to, and will, be true to those who defend them—true to Caleb Powers.

A Powersite.

Notice!

As has been stated heretofore, we want it distinctly and positively understood that the Eagle is for neither Caleb Powers or Don C. Edwards in their race for the nomination for Congress in this district. We have no interest whatever in either of the gentlemen. They are both in the business of politics, both advertising for business, and what either of them do through the Eagle is done the same as a merchant or any other business man would do it—by paying the cash at certain space prices. We want all our readers of the political faith of the candidates to make up their minds when it comes to voting and vote as they please. We are not in the least concerned as to which this shall be. If this statement don't suffice nothing will.

The Secret of Success

"What is the secret of success" asked the Sphinx.

Push, said the button.
Take pains, said the window.
Never be led, said the pencil.
Be up to date, said the calendar.

Always keep cool, said the ice.
Do business on tick, said the clock.

Never lose your head, said the barrel.

A driving business, said the hammer.

Aspire to greater things, said the nutmeg.

Make light of everything, said the fire.

Make much of small things, said the microscope.

Never do anything offhand, said the glove.

Spend much time in reflection, said the ball.

Do the work you are suited for, said the flue.

Be sharp in your dealings, said the knife.

Find a good thing to stick to, said the glue.

Trust to your stars for success, said the night.

Strive to make a good impression, said the seal.

Turn all things to your advantage, said the lathe.

Make the most of your good points, said the compass.

Be always on the lookout for a snap, said the camera.

Never take sides, but be round when you're wanted, said the ball.

EDITORIAL.

For nearly three years, in every way our poor talent could conjure, the Eagle has been doing all it could to moralize and better the condition of our people in every section of our beloved mountain country. We often, though without boasting, congratulate ourselves that, considering our chances, sense and strength, we have accomplished much. We have begged and pleaded with young men and old men not to drink whisky and reminded them of the dangerous, disastrous and baneful effects of such a practice. We have advised against the useless and unmanly and immoral customs of cursing and swearing, yet whether a single one of our admonitions reached where it was intended we know not. "Cast thy bread upon the waters," as was commanded of old, has been our motto, and with this duty done, a sweet peace such as comes to those who do their duty has often found a resting place in our breast. The Eagle knows, it has known all along, that it could not force men to do anything. It has proceeded along a different course from that. The parent that forces his children to obey his laws and precepts and that, too, by corporal punishment will fail. Children must be brought up, not drove up. The parent must lead, must go before, if he would have his children to walk in his steps. It's a serious risk for a parent to set bad examples before his children, believing that they will not do as he does. It would be something out of the ordinary, a monstrosity in nature, for a chip to come from the block, out of the block, and not be like the block from which it came. In this country now a carpet of vegetation, consisting of trees and myriads of plants, covers the land, and yet every one of them bears the ideality of the parent plant or the parent seed from which they sprung. They are the embodiment of the one original. We are all Adam and Eve many times multiplied. Your children, dear reader, are a multiplication of yourself and as naturally as the sparks fly up ward, or the water runs down ward, will follow the example set by you. Every impulse, every thought, every ambition, every desire of your boy or girl has

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks and attractiveness. Her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

MR. ROOSEVELT IN CONVERSATION WITH MR. E. MONT REILY ON BOARD THE KAISERIN AUGUSTE VICTORIA.

During his return voyage to America on the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria Mr. Roosevelt did a great deal of literary work and answered a bushel of letters. He was very approachable and talked with many passengers each day. He was very noncommittal in his answers to political questions of a leading character. In the picture he is shown talking with E. Mont Reily, a business man of Kansas City.

Notice of Application and Order of Election

ORDERS---Letcher County Court, June Term, First Day, June 6, 1910.

This being the regular June term of the Letcher County Court 1910, and the first day of the said term, and a petition having been filed at the regular May term of the said court 1910, signed by Nathaniel Hale, James C Sexton, W H Blair, F M Everage, Charlie Everidge, Ben Everage, John Taylor, Jno D Collins, Babe Collins, Willie Craft, B F Taylor, W P Taylor, E C Bentley, Blain Collins, W H Adams, John Bentley, asking that a Graded Common School District be organized in Letcher county at and near the mouth of the Campbranch of Rockhouse creek and bounded as follows to-wit:

Beginning at the lower end of Elihu Adams' farm on said Rockhouse creek and running up said creek to the upper end of Babe Collins' farm including all the tributaries of same except Camp branch and it is to extend up said Campbranch to the lower end of Jasper Bowens' farm so as to include Jasper Collins' land opposite the lower end of said Bowens' farm. Said boundary being the same as the present Common School Sub-district No. 1 Educational Division No. 3 and no more and no less.

Said petition asking that the site for schoolhouse of said proposed district be the same as the present site of the present school house and bounded on the north by the land of Babe Collins and on the east, south and west by land of J H Frazier, and containing one half acre more or less. And no part of said district is or will be more than two and one half miles from said site.

And it appearing also that said petitioners are tax payers and legal voters and residents of the proposed Graded Common School district and of Magisterial district No. 3 in said Letcher county Ky. And that the County Supt. has endorsed on said petition his approval of same, and that the trustee of the Common School Sub-district aforesaid that will be embraced within said proposed graded common school district has endorsed his approval on said petition, as provided by law, all of which is in due form of law.

Now therefore the Court being sufficiently advised, orders that Louis Cook, Sheriff of Letcher county, be and he is hereby directed to cause a poll to be opened and an election to be held Saturday the 23rd day of July 1910, being more than 40 days after the entry of this order, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal white voters residing within the boundary of the said proposed graded common school district whether there shall be levied and collected an annual tax of 25 cents on each one hundred dollars worth of the taxable property in said proposed district, subject to state and county taxation owned by the white persons and $1 of poll tax on each white male inhabitant of said proposed white graded common school district over 21 years of age for the purpose of establishing a graded common school therein as provided by law and the common school laws of this state in sections 100 and 130.

Those who are entitled to vote at said election are all white male citizens over 21 years old, who have been a resident of the proposed graded common school district for 60 days, and in the county for six months and in the State for one year next preceding the day of said election. (See Sec. page 107, Acts of 1891-2-3.)

This the 14th day of June, 1910.

By virtue of execution No. 17, directed to me which issued from the clerk's office of the Letcher Circuit Court in favor of the Commonwealth of Ky. against Ned Craft, I, or one of my deputies, will on Monday August 1, 1910, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 1 o'clock p. m., at the Courthouse door in Whitesburg, Letcher Co. Ky. expose to public sale to the highest bidder, the following property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy plaintiff's debt, interest and cost, to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Letcher Co. Ky. on Mill creek, a tributary of North fork of Kentucky river and bounded as follows:

Beginning on a beech on east side of said Mill creek, whence N 68 W 100 poles to a stake S 39 W 70 poles to stake, S 60 e 200 poles to stake, N 30 e 70 poles to stake, N 60 w 100 poles to beginning, containing 100 acres more or less. This being the same land conveyed from W M H Adams to Ned Craft by deed dated June 1, 1880 and recorded in book K page 341 Letcher County Court Clerk's office. Levied on as the property of Ned Ison.

Terms—Sale will be made on a credit of six months, bond with approved security required bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from day of sale and having the force and effect of a replevin bond.

Witness my hand, this 30th day of May, 1910.

The Greatest Triumph in Typewriter History

NEW VISIBLE MODELS OF THE

Remington

These new models represent the sum total of more labor, more experience, more accumulated knowledge, and greater resource than all other typewriters combined

That is why these new Remingtons have given such complete satisfaction to typewriter users, and why their sales have broken all records since the invention of the writing machine.

Real Estate

The safest investment known on earth is to invest in land. Everybody knows this. It's better than Government bonds. The majority of rich men are land owners. As long as the world continues to increase in population land will continue to advance, and just as sure as this world will continue to increase in population, just that sure your investment in land will increase in value. I am the only licensed Real estate man in Leslie county and have several good boundaries of coal and timber lands on my list for sale and am in connection with several real estate men in Kentucky and in the far off west, and if you want to buy a farm or sell your coal or timber land consult me.
